

Where to Find Tiki Drinks in San Diego

Live out eternal sunset at these 12 bars and restaurants

It should come as no surprise to anyone that San Diego is one of the perfect destinations for tiki bars—with an “eternal sunset” vacation-as-lifestyle vibe permeating through our beachside city, it only makes sense that we’re outfitted with many high-quality tropical watering holes, from dedicated tiki bars like 2017 Eater Award winner The Grass Skirt to cocktail spots with weekly tiki nights. Here are 12 of the best tiki bars in San Diego.

Restaurants and bars are listed from north to south. Map points are not ranked.

Duke's La Jolla

1216 Prospect St

La Jolla, CA 92037

(858) 454-5888

Visit Website

The La Jolla offshoot of the original Duke's in Waikiki captures proper tiki vibes with sweeping ocean views and their special Mai Tai made with passion fruit, orange and guava.

Miss B's Coconut Club

7154, 3704 Mission Blvd

San Diego, CA 92109

(858) 381-0855

Visit Website

Miss B's is particularly known for its creative selection of serving glasses, which run the gamut from classic tiki mugs to copper flamingoes. It also has a healthy dose of Cuban influence, bringing a little Caribbean flair into the South Pacific. Miss B's is perfect for daytime imbibing, owing to its location near the beach.

